9. War, attacks, nuclear explosion and chemical incidents (English)

Oracle OS guide (FEMA, CDC, Sweden's "In case of crisis or war", Norway/Finland guides in the library). Always follow official instructions on radio and alerts.

GO IN, STAY IN, TUNE IN

Get into the nearest solid (brick/concrete) building, stay inside away from windows, tune to public radio (UK: BBC Radio 4 / BBC Radio Scotland — see Radio screen).

Sirens and alerts

Meanings vary by country. On hearing one: go inside, close doors/windows, turn on the radio. Keep phone emergency alerts enabled.

Air raid / shelling

Public shelter, basement, underground car park or metro; at home the innermost windowless room on the lowest floor. Put two walls between you and outside. Stay away from glass. Do not film troops or strike sites; do not post locations online.

Nuclear explosion

- Don't look at the flash. Outdoors: lie down, cover your head.
- You have minutes before fallout arrives: get inside the best shelter — centre of a concrete building or basement.
- Stay inside at least 24 hours unless told otherwise; fallout radiation drops sharply over the first hours and days.
- If exposed: remove outer clothing before entering (removes up to ~90% of contamination), bag it away from people, shower with soap and shampoo, no conditioner; blow your nose, wipe ears and eyelids.
- Sealed food and water are safe — wipe the packaging first.
- Potassium iodide (KI) protects only the thyroid and should be taken only when health officials say so.

Chemical release

Go inside, close windows, turn off ventilation, seal gaps with wet towels and tape; many toxic gases are heavier than air — go upstairs. Outdoors: move crosswind and upwind. Skin contact: remove clothing, wash with lots of soap and water, flush eyes 15 minutes.

Evacuation

72-hour grab bag: water, food, medicines and prescriptions, ID/documents (copies on phone too), cash, charger and power bank, battery radio, torch, warm clothes, first-aid kit, paper list of contacts. Agree a meeting point near home and one outside town. Take pets if you can.

Checkpoints and afterwards

Carry ID; obey checkpoints; show your hands; don't run. Don't return home until allowed. Beware damaged buildings, gas leaks (no flames or switches), fallen power lines and unexploded ordnance — never touch military objects; move away and report.
